To Mutti and Vati and my little sister, also to Angus. His huge furry outside may have gone to cat heaven, but the scar on my ankle lingers on. Also to Brenda and Jude and the fab gang at Piccadilly. And Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) thanks to John Nicolson.

Dad had Uncle Eddie round so naturally they had to come and nose around and see what Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) I was up to. If Uncle Eddie Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) (who is bald as a coot – too coots, in fact) says to me one more time, “Should bald heads be buttered?” I may kill myself. He doesn’t seem Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) to realise that I no longer wear Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) romper-suits. I feel like yelling at him. “I am fourteen years old, Uncle Eddie! I am bursting with womanhood, I wear a bra! OK, it’s a bit on the loose side and does ride up round my neck if I run for the bus... but the womanly potential is there, you bald coot!”

Talking of breasts, I’m worried that I may end up like the rest of the women in my family, with just the one bust, like a sort of shelf affair. Mum can balance things on hers when Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) her hands are full – at parties, and so on, she can have a sandwich and drink and save a snack for later by putting it on her shelf. It’s very unattractive. I would like a proper amount of breastiness but not go too far with it, like Melanie Griffiths, for instance. I got the most awful shock in the showers after hockey last term. Her bra looks like two shopping bags. I suspect she is a bit Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) unbalanced hormonally. She certainly is when she tries to run for the ball. I thought she’d run right through the fence with the momentum of her “bosoomers” as Jas so amusingly calls them.

Still in my room

Still raining

Still Sunday

11:30 a.m.

I don’t see why I can’t have a lock on my bedroom door. I have no privacy: it’s like Noel’s House Party in my room. Every time I suggest anything around this place people start shaking their heads and tutting. It’s like living in a house full of chickens dressed in frocks and trousers.

Or a house full of those nodding dogs, or a house full of... anyway... I can't have a lock on Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) my door is the short and short of it.

"Why not?" I asked Mum reasonably (catching her in one of the rare minutes when she's not at Italian evening class or at another party).

"Because you might have an accident and we couldn't get in," she said.

"An accident like what?" I persisted.

"Well... you might faint," she said.

Then Dad joined in, "You might set fire to your bed and be overcome with fumes."

What is the matter with people? I know why they don't want me to have a lock on my door, it's because it would be a first sign of my path to adulthood and they can't bear the idea of that because Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) it would mean they might have to get on with their own lives and leave me alone.

Still Sunday

11:35 a.m.

There are six things very wrong with my life:

1. I have one of those under-the-skin spots that will never come to a head but lurk in a red way for the next two years.
2. It is on my nose.
3. I have a three-year-old sister who may have peed Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) somewhere in Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) my room.
4. In fourteen days the summer hols will be over and then it will be back to Stalag 14 and Oberführer Frau Simpson and her bunch of sadistic "teachers".
5. I am very ugly and need to go into an ugly home.

---

6. I went to a party dressed as a stuffed olive.

11:40 a.m.

OK, that's it. I'm turning over a new leaf. I found an article in Mum's Cosmo about how to be happy if you are very unhappy (which I am). The article is called "Emotional confidence". What you have to do is Recall... Experience... and HEAL. So you think of a painful incident and Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) you remember all the ghastly detail of it... this is the Recall bit, then you experience the emotions and acknowledge them and then you JUST LET IT GO.

2:00 p.m.

Uncle Eddie has gone, thank the Lord. He actually asked me if I'd like to ride in the sidecar on his motorbike. Are all adults from Planet Xenon? What should I have said? "Yes, certainly, Uncle Eddie, I would like to go in your pre-war sidecar and with a bit of luck all of Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) my friends will see me with some mad, bald bloke and that will be the end of my life. Thank you."

4:00 p.m.

Jas came round. She said it took her ages to get out of her catsuit after the fancy dress party. I wasn't very interested but I asked her why out of politeness.

She said, "Well, the boy behind the counter in the hire shop was really good-looking."

"Yes, Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) so?"

"Well, so I lied about my size – I got a size ten catsuit instead of twelve."

She showed Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) me the marks around her neck and waist: they are quite deep. I said, "Your head looks a bit swollen up."

"No, that's just Sunday."

I told her about the Cosmo article and so we spent a few hours recalling the fancy dress party (i.e. the painful incident) and Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) experiencing the emotions in order to heal them.

I blame Jas entirely. It may have been my idea to go as a stuffed olive but she didn't stop me like a pal should do. In fact, she encouraged me. We made the stuffed olive costume out of chicken wire and green crêpe paper – that was for the "olive" bit. It had little shoulder straps to keep it up and I wore a green T-shirt and green tights underneath. It was the "stuffed" bit that Jas helped with mostly. As I recall, it was she that suggested I use Crazy Colour to dye my hair and head and face and neck red... like a sort of pimento. It was, I Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) have to say, quite funny at the time. Well, when we were in my room. The difficulty came when I tried to get out of my room. I had to go down the stairs sideways.

When I did get to the door I had to go back and change my tights because my cat Angus had one of his "Call of the Wilds" episodes.

He really is completely bonkers. We got him when we went on holiday to Loch Lomond. On the last day I found him wandering around the garden of the guest house we were staying in. Tarry-a-Wee-While, it was called. That should give you some idea of what the holiday was like.

I should have guessed all was not entirely well in the Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) cat department when I picked him up and he began savaging my cardigan. But he was such a lovely looking kitten, all tabby and long-haired, with huge yellow eyes. Even as a kitten he looked like a small dog. I begged and pleaded to take him home.

"He'll die here, he has no mummy or daddy," I said plaintively.

My dad said, "He's probably eaten them." Honestly, he can be callous. I worked on Mum and in the end I brought him home. The Scottish landlady did say she thought he was probably mixed breed, half domestic tabby and half Scottish wildcat. I remember thinking, Oh, that will be exotic. I didn't realise that he would grow to the size of a small Labrador only mad. I used to drag him around on a lead but, as I explained to Mrs Next Door, he ate it.

Anyway, sometimes he hears the call of the Scottish highlands. So, as I Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) was passing by as a stuffed olive he leaped out from his concealed hiding-place behind the curtains (or his lair, as I suppose he imagined it Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) in his cat brain) and attacked my tights or "prey". I couldn't break his hold by banging his head because he was darting from side to side. In the end I managed to reach the outdoor brush by the door and beat him off with it.

Then I couldn't get Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) in Dad's Volvo. Dad said, "Why don't you take off the olive bit and we'll stick it in the boot."

Honestly, what is the Angus, thongs and full-frontal snogging (Confessions of Georgia Nicolson, Book 1) point? I said, "Dad, if you think I am sitting next to you in a green T-shirt and tights, you're mad."

He got all shirty like parents do as soon as you point out how stupid and useless they are. "Well, you'll have to walk, then... I'll drive along really slowly with Jas and you walk alongside."

I couldn't believe it. "If I have to walk, why don't Jas and I both walk there and forget about the car?"

He got that stupid, tight-lipped look that dads get when they think they are being reasonable. "Because I want to be sure of where you are going. I don't want you out wandering the streets at night."
