
“Who the hell are you, Lily Cunningham?” Ron asked.

“A rich Forever...Again (Mills & Boon Vintage Cherish) (Silhouette Special Edition) dilettante killing a few months in a backwater?”

She sucked in air like a drowning man. “That’s what you think of me?”

“Am I wrong?”

“Only totally.” Planting both hands on his broad chest, Forever...Again (Mills & Boon Vintage Cherish) (Silhouette Special Edition) she gave Forever...Again (Mills & Boon Vintage Cherish) (Silhouette Special Edition) him a mighty shove that, much to her disgust, didn’t budge him Forever...Again (Mills & Boon Vintage Cherish) (Silhouette Special Edition) an inch. “You are a completely infuriating man.”

“That’s been said before.”

“Hardly surprising.” Liliy whirled around and took two quick steps.

Ron dropped one big hand on her shoulder. Forever...Again (Mills & Boon Vintage Cherish) (Silhouette Special Edition) “Running away?”

“I do not run away from anything.”

“Then what’s your hurry?”

She took a long, deep breath and prayed for patience. “Tell me why I should stand here and let you insult me in my own office.”

He looked down at her and held her gaze. Then he said, softly, unexpectedly, “I don’t want you to go.”

Merlyn County Regional Hospital Happenings

Congratulations to midwife Milla Johnson on her engagement to our very own handsome pediatrician, Dr. Kyle Bingham! With two such wonderful people on our staff, the children of Merlyn County couldn't be in better hands! A bridal shower for the happy couple is in the works. Please see the receptionist's desk for more details.

Detective Bryce Collins is still working alongside Dr. Mari Bingham on the investigation into procedures at the Foster Clinic. Please give the detective your full cooperation should he request information about the hospital. And please continue to report any strange behavior at the Foster Clinic or in the pharmacy department to Dr. Bingham or her receptionist.

Volunteers for PR Forever...Again (Mills & Boon Vintage Cherish) (Silhouette Special Edition) director Lily Cunningham's next great fund-raising idea should contact the receptionist's desk.

(And anyone who sees CEO Ron Bingham hanging around Lily's office and grumbling about the festivities—ignore him!)

Chapter One

Lily Cunningham laughed to Forever...Again (Mills & Boon Vintage Cherish) (Silhouette Special Edition) herself as she swiped a paper towel along the counter in one of the birthing rooms. If her friends in New York could see her now, she thought. They'd never believe it. But then who would?

A woman of forty-five who'd hit the top of her profession, made tons of money and lived in a plush apartment in Manhattan would appear to have everything she'd ever wanted. Right?

Wrong.

Lily crumpled the paper towel, stepped on the pedal of the gleaming stainless steel trash can and dropped the used paper inside. Smiling to herself, she left the birthing room, turning the light out behind her.

Stepping into the hall, she breathed deeply, enjoying the cool, soothing pastel tones on the walls and the scent of fresh flowers drifting through the women's clinic. The sound of the three-inch heels of her scarlet pumps were muffled on the carpeted hallway as she made her way to her office. Smiling and nodding at the people she passed, she heard the indignant cry of a newborn from one room, and from behind the closed door of another, she heard a midwife calmly Forever...Again (Mills & Boon Vintage Cherish) (Silhouette Special Edition) saying, "You have to remember to breathe, Shelley."

Lily smiled Forever...Again (Mills & Boon Vintage Cherish) (Silhouette Special Edition) and kept walking.

This is what made her happy, she thought.

Being here.

In Kentucky.

At the Foster Midwifery Clinic.

Doing work that meant something. That had impact on people's lives. That required more of her than looking spectacular at a business dinner.

"Lily!"

She stopped and swung around to face Forever...Again (Mills & Boon Vintage Cherish) (Silhouette Special Edition) Mari Bingham, the wonderful doctor who'd brought Forever...Again (Mills & Boon Vintage Cherish) (Silhouette Special Edition) Lily on as public relations director in the first place. As usual, Mari was walking at a half run. The woman simply never slowed down.

"Where's the fire?" Lily asked, smiling.

"Where isn't a fire?" Mari shook her head and then jammed both hands into the pockets of her white lab coat, rummaging around in their depths. "I swear, it's as if the whole county decided nine months ago that it would be a great time to make a baby."

"I noticed." And Lily liked it. She'd never had children of her own, which was just one of the small sore spots that ached in the corners of her heart. Oh, she'd learned to live with the disappointment years Forever...Again (Mills & Boon Vintage Cherish) (Silhouette Special Edition) ago, and being here, constantly in the midst of labors and deliveries...almost made her feel a part of everything.

Working for Forever...Again (Mills & Boon Vintage Cherish) (Silhouette Special Edition) the midwifery clinic and women's ealth center was like having Forever...Again (Mills & Boon Vintage Cherish) (Silhouette Special Edition) a ringside seat for a Forever...Again (Mills & Boon Vintage Cherish) (Silhouette Special Edition) miracle, Forever...Again (Mills & Boon Vintage Cherish) (Silhouette Special Edition) every day.

"We've only got the one birthing room empty at the moment." Lily grinned. "If this keeps up, maybe you should think about expanding."

Mari's Forever...Again (Mills & Boon Vintage Cherish) (Silhouette Special Edition) eyes widened. "Bite your tongue," she said on a half laugh. "We've got plenty to do right now, with the clinic and the..." Her voice trailed off and a scowl tightened her expression.

Lily could have kicked herself. She hadn't meant to give Mari any reason to think about the ridiculous accusations flying around. But judging by the tired, haunted look in Mari's eyes, the younger woman was doing a lot of thinking lately, with or without Forever...Again (Mills & Boon Vintage Cherish) (Silhouette Special Edition) Lily's reminders.
