Preface

Most of us, if not all, have heard the saying, “I’m only human,” before. This is because we naturally associate being human with having flaws, so we use this saying as our defence in most situations. It is indeed true; we are flawed beings and we often make mistakes. Therefore, feelings of greed, envy, jealousy and hatred arise. These feelings cause constant conflict not only among each other, but also within ourselves. However, they are seen as the norm and thus, no effort is made Human to eliminate them.

This poetry book explores this flawed nature and addresses the many issues it breeds, touching several topics such as perfectionism, elitism, narcissism and loss of identity. The goal of this book is to inspire introspection, realization and acceptance, and thus, open the doors to change.

Two-faced

Narcissistic Human Tendencies

We live in a world of narcissists,
Human
Who claim themselves optimists,

Yet our pain they fail to see,

Due to their lack of empathy.

"Man up," they say,

As they dismiss our dismay,

So divided we become,

As our hearts grow numb.

Disregarding our pain,

Just to keep a pure name;

Human

An acceptable act of cruelty,

Breeding hatred and Human enmity.

Stuck in this sick game we call humanity,

Where concern is nothing but a mere formality,

Human
