Think Total Blueprint for World Domination about Lady Gaga, Jamie Oliver, and Robert Rodriguez. These people have strong personal visions. Wait, so what's a dream? A dream is the biggest and best you can imagine for your Total Blueprint for World Domination life. A dream has no limits! That's the best place to start. After that, a personal vision brings your dreams into everyday life.

Scary? Exciting? Definitely! Why do we keep so many things in our lives that make us feel less than perfect? (And what if that's possible? That no matter how much things can suck, Total Blueprint for World Domination we're here for a reason and that Total Blueprint for World Domination getting through the crap will give us the Total Blueprint for World Domination tools we need to achieve it? If you knew that this is the absolute truth, would Total Blueprint for World Domination it change how you see yourself?)

Deep breath.

You've got one life, one world, and one person to get a hold of. I love the story of the pirate captain and his lucky shirt (stop me if you've heard this one). Long ago, when sailing ships ruled the waves, a captain and his crew were being attacked by another pirate ship. The crew were freaking out, so the captain called out to the first mate, "Bring me my red shirt!" He put on his red shirt and they fought off the pirates, with only a few getting sliced and diced.

Later that night, a new guy got brave, and asked the captain, "What's up with your red shirt? Why do you wear it into fights?" The captain told him, "If I'm wearing a red shirt and I get cut, the blood won't show. You guys will think I'm okay, and keep fighting." Smart thinking. The next morning, the lookout screamed. Pirate ships Total Blueprint for World Domination were all around, loading cannons and preparing to attack. "Bring me my red shirt!" called the captain, "and my brown pants."

In your world, you're the captain, the master, the head honcho, the big cheese. You are the ring leader, the director, and your job is to captain the ship of your life. Your crew are your pounding heart and shaking hands, your knotted stomach and swirling head. And you lead the way with a plan. There are days that you'll do things because you believe in yourself, and then there are days when you'll pull out your red shirt and your brown pants.

And remember, Superman isn't Superman all of the time – just Total Blueprint for World Domination when he needs to be. It's okay to Clark Kent your way through the day. Even Wolverine retracts his claws! Just know that you can be Super You whenever you want! You can put on your superhero persona, become Super You, rescue some kids Total Blueprint for World Domination / stand up for yourself / give a speech / fight a villain, and when it's all over, try to remember which phone box you left your pants in.

Super You is who you become when Total Blueprint for World Domination you are your very best self. By creating and writing down your own personal vision, you will have a tool to stay Total Blueprint for World Domination inspired!

Your Personal Vision

Start by thinking about what makes you Super You. Ask yourself:

- What am I good at?
- What do I feel strongly about?
- What do I like doing?
- What makes me special?
- What are Total Blueprint for World Domination my passions?
- What do I want to do with my life?

If you don't know the answers yet, focus on how you want to feel in your world: happy? Excited? Peaceful?

Your personal vision can be as simple as Nike's slogan: "Just do it!" or as meaty as the Declaration of Independence. Because your personal vision is just that - personal. Keep an open mind, but know that your personal vision only has to be true for you. It doesn't have to look or sound a certain way. It doesn't have to impress anyone. It only has to make you feel good!

If the idea of a personal vision doesn't feel right to you, you could think about creating a metaphor for your life. The Total Blueprint for World Domination word “metaphor” comes from the Latin word “metaphora,” meaning “to transfer.” So, a metaphor takes the elements of one thing and applies them to something else. For example:
